The aim of the journal is to provide a place for a rapid exchange of new ideas and concepts for scientists and engineers in environments and ecology with management. Manuscripts in environmental accounting and managements are solicited, including mathematical modeling, and computational and management techniques in environmental, ecological, energy and information science, technology and engineering, such as agricultural, urban, coastal, riparian, wetland ecosystems. Topics of interest in ecosystems include but not limited to

- Accounting in environmental economics, ecosystem service evaluation, energy and resource, social factors and management.
- Modeling in environmental conservation and restoration, eco-hydrology and water resources management, ecological process and pattern, climate change effects, environmental engineering and technology.
